Approximately 1,000 metal manufacturers in Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana were affected by this order. Further civilian needs will have to be met with present inventory stock or substitution of materials and products.

Production has gradually come to a stop on the manufacture of a total of more than 700 civilian items made of iron and steel since the M-126 order was announced originally on May 4 by the war production board. The first tapering-off period on manufacture of about 400 items came to an end on Aug. 3.

This supplemental list includes such items as automobile heaters for private cars, household bread and cake boxes, game and gambling devices, memorial tablets, beauty and barber shop supplies, hospital equipment, garden tools and vanity cases. No other scarce materials may be used to manufacture any article listed in the order.

Naval Enlistment Records Expected To Topple In N. Texas During Month

LIEUTENANT L. H. RIDOUT, JR., SAYS THIRTEEN RECRUITS HAVE VOLUNTEERED THIS MONTH FROM COLLIN COUNTY.

Previous naval enlistment records in the North Texas district are expected to topple in September, judging from mid-month figures which show that slightly less than 120 men a day have joined the Navy during the first fifteen days of the month, L. H. Ridout Jr., officer in charge, pointed out today.

To date, the total figure for the month includes 13 recruits from Collin County.

"At the main station in Dallas we are handling more men per day than ever before," Lieutenant Ridout explained. "Naturally, we are gratified at this evident response to the Navy's call for both skilled and unskilled men.

"To attain the month's goal of 3,600 recruits, however, we need exactly 120 men each day. Right now, we aren't getting them. This means that all recruiting efforts must be increased to make up the difference. With the help of patriotic Americans, we can do it.

"In view of current official predictions that men with children may be called for service with the armed forces by 1943, the only logical reasction for any family man is to investigate immediately opportunities offered by the Navy before it's too late to choose the branch of service he wishes to enter."

A recruiting officer will be in Dallas Sept. 18, 19, and 20 to interview applicants for the Seabees, popular overseas construction regiments which have openings ranging from cooks and clerks to sheet metal workers and wharfbuilders.

RUSSIAN DEFENSES GIVE WAY WEST OF STALINGRAD; AIR SUPPORT AIDS NAZIS

GENERAL MACARTHUR SAYS ALLIED BOMBERS DO GREAT DAMAGE TO BUNA, REBAUL AND OTHER ENEMY POSITIONS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC.

BULLETINS.

Russian defenses at Stalingrad gave way West of the city before the massed assault of German men, tanks, guns and planes, with the nazis paying heavily in men for the territory gained. Air support played an important part in the German gains as fighting reached a new peak of intensity. Southwest of the city and other sectors, the Russians were reported holding the enemy. Rain is reported falling on Stalingrad.

On a 1,500 mile front in the Southwest Pacific, Allied bombers of General MacArthur are bombing Japanese positions and smashing enemy bases. Buna and Rebaul felt the full force of the Allied air attack, while the Australians are said to be holding the Japanese, who are endeavoring to reach Port Moresby, Allied base.

Attempting to recapture Gaudalcanal Island, strong American position in the Solomons, the Japanese launched a new attack, but are being held by defending American forces, the Navy said, as they told of reinforcements being landed by the enemy. Enemy warships and planes increased their bombing and shelling of American positions, but the Marines are maintaining their positions. Twenty-one additional Japanese planes have been destroyed in recent fighting by Army, Navy and Marine fliers.

The Russians are holding at Stalingrad and smashing the attacks of the nazis who have the city virtually surrounded. Fresh German troops have been thrown into the battle to take the city at all costs and the Russians seem determined to hold the city at all costs. The city is in flames from heavy raids of German dive bombers. The nazis succeeded in advancing Southwest of the city, but were thrown back in a fierce Soviet Russian counterattack.

General MacArthur has said that Major G. C. Kenney is commander of the Allied Air Forces in the Southwest Pacific, succeeding Lt. Gen. George H. Brett, who will be given another assignment. Major Gen. Ralph Royce was relieved of his duties as commander of the 29th bombardment Wing of the United States Army Air Unit.

Allied air forces bombed Japanese bases in New Guinea and many fires were started in Buna, held by the Japanese.

United States fighters attacked Japanese shipping and men on Kiska in the Aleutians for the first time since the enemy occupied the island.

Gas Company Has Problem Meeting Public Demands

"Due to the loss of a number of our experienced men to the armed services and war industries, the problem of meeting the demands made on our service organization by the seasonal fall rush is more serious than ever before in the history of our Company," said Hal Dyer, Manager of the Community Natural Gas Company in McKinney.

Mr. Dyer points out that many thousands of seasonal heating customers will request that their meters be turned on within the space of a few days. Other customers will call on our Company to service and place in operation various kinds and types of heating equipment.

"Under present conditions, with a depleted personnel, limited transportation, and the necessity of maintaining the 40-hour work week it is apparent that it will be impossible to render our customers service with the degree of promptness to which they have become accustomed," Mr. Dyer said.

"The only way many of our customers can avoid delay in the response to their requests for service, with the resultant inconvenience and possible actual discomfort, is to make these requests at an early date. All requests for service must be executed in the order in which they are received and those customers who delay making their requests will, of necessity, be required to wait until prior orders have been completed."

Livestock Put On "War Time" Feeding Basis

Good Rations Increase Production Speed And Efficiency.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series, "Feed to Speed War Production," published as a service to livestock producers.)

Just as "war time" was instituted nationally so that factories, transportation agencies and other industries might increase their war output, feeding authorities are calling upon livestock producers to adopt a "war time" of their own to increase the speed of production of milk and meat and other livestock products needed in winning the war.

"War Time" for the livestock producer, they explain, is more than merely a matter of setting up the clock. To speed up production of livestock to the extent demanded by the war effort requires maximum use of proved methods of better livestock management, sanitation, feeding and handling which can result in more rapid, as well as more efficient, production.

Speeding up livestock production requires, especially, more efficent feeding methods. These methods and well-balanced rations make more pounds of meat, milk and other products daily, and shorten the time required in reaching markets. They save both time and labor for the livestock producer, especially important now when farmers and ranchmen face a scarcity of both labor and time.

"Plenty of Protein" is being stressed in these methods because of the realization that average rations fed have been well-below minimum protein standards, while feeding of more than the minimum standards of ten is advantageous both from the standpoint of efficiency and economy. With good supplies of cottonseed meal and peanut meal and other highly-concentrated protein feeds available this season, the feeding of more protein in rations is an important and effective way to increase the rapidity and volume of production of "Food for Victory."

Furthermore, relative supplies of protein concentrates and grains for 1942-43 are causing agricultural and livestock leaders to advocate the use of more than minimum protein requirements in order to save grain, as well as time. They point out that protein has an important replacement value for grain, so that available supplies of such protein concentrates as cottonseed meal and peanut meal should be used for this purpose.

By combining rations containing plenty of protein and other nutrients with such time saving methods as creep feeding, self-feeding and others, livestock producers can develop a "war time" schedule of their own. This schedule wil do much to solve serious problems of labor supplies, transportation and marketing; it will help to assure the fighting forces of the United States of adequate supplies; in plenty of time.

Jack J. Hansard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hansard, of Weston, has enlisted in the navy as an apprentice seaman and has been sent to San Diego, California, for training. He was employed in Sherman prior to his enlistment. He graduated from the McKinney high school.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Funderburk of Dallas visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kirkland of Northwest McKinney over the week-end.

Capt. Tom B. Wilson, wife and little son, Tommy, of Fort Sill, Oklahoma, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Add G. Wilson in McKinney.

N. Y. A. Youths Are Promoted

Charles R. McCormack of Route No. 4 McKinney and Ira H. Reynolds of Route No. 1, Princeton, Texas, who have been employed at the Corpus Christi NYA War ork Center, recently were appointed by the Civil Service Commission to the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station as Helper Trainees at $120 a month each, according to information received from local NYA officials.

While assigned to the NYA War Work Center in Corpus Christi, these young men received work experience at the Naval Air Station in the repair, construction, and maintenance of airplanes and airplane engines.

Messrs. McCormack and Reynolds were referred to this center by the United States Employment Service. Besides the work experience which these boys obtained at the Naval Air Station, they also attended related information and training classes taught by instructors furnished through the Corpus Christi public schools and the State Board of Vocational Education.

Youth in McKinney and vicinity begin preliminary work experience and training for employment in war industries at the NYA War Work Shop located at 120 South Chestnut Street, McKinney, Texas.

McKinney, Collin County Youths Commissioned

Every section of Texas is represented at the seven advance flying schools of the Gulf Coast Army Air Forces Training Center at 463 young Texans step up to have silver wings of the Army Air Forces pinned on their chests, symbolic of graduation.

Officials did not reveal the total number of graduates, but said that Texas again leads all the other states. All except two states have men in this class, the eighth to graduate since Pearl Harbor. Canada and Latin America also have graduates.

These sons of the Lone Star State have urgently requested immediate assignment to the war zone for combat action. These assignments will follow soon, officials say.

"We all want to get into the fighting as soon as we can," one grim lipped Texan said.

These Texasn had three weeks of pre-flight instruction and nine weeks each of primary, basic and advanced training. Those who pilot the single engine fighter planes are graduating today from Foster Field, Texas; Moore Field, Texas, and Lake Charles, La., Army Flying School.

Those who pilot the bombers are graduating at Ellington Field, Brooks Field, Kelly Field and Lubbock Army Flying School, all in Texas.

Included in the class are identical twins, Lieuts. Ralph E. and James D. Tankersley of Terrell. They delighted fellow cadets at the Lubbock Army Flying School and confused instructors by looking, acting and flying exactly alike.

Then there is Colonel J. Russell of San Angelo at Kelly Field who is adding the title of Lieutenant to his name today. Colonel is actually given name.

Fololwing student pilot tradition, mothers, wives and sweethearts of the Texans graduating today are named "honorary members of the class and mailed miniatures of the silver wings presented the men.

Included in those who graduated from the Training Center are the following McKinney and Collin County young men:

Lieutenant James W. Witt, Route 1, Frisco, (Brooks Field.)

Lieutenant William D. Wilson, Route 4, McKinney, (Brooks Field.)

Lieutenant Carl E. Hitchcock, 803 North Bradley, McKinney. (Foster Field.)

Lieutenant George R. Morris, 302 Lamar, McKinney, (Lake Charles).

Lieut George C. Wilson, 1001 North Waddill, McKinney, (Lubbock.)

Lieutenant Oscar Lee Cantrell, Jr., Route 3, McKinney, (Lubbock).

THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES.

THERE REACHES OUR DESK an interesting booklet presented by the United States Navy Recruiting Service, which is greatly appreciated, entitled "The Flag of the United States; how to display it for various ceremonies, together with a brief history of each design." It gives Our National Anthem by Francis Scott Key; how to display the Flag of the United States, colored designs of the Stars and Stripes, some cautions, and the history of the United States Flags. Of course, it contains the pledge of allegiance, which is: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands; one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice to all." Some of the cautions it gives are:

Do not permit disrespect to be shown the flag.

Do not let the flag touch the ground, deck or water.

Do not place any emblem or object of any kind on or above the flag except the authorized head staffs.

Do not drape the flag over the hood, top, sides, or back of a vehicle, train or boat. When displayed from an automobile, or train, or vehicle, it should be from a staff firmly affixed.

Do not display the flag on a float in a parade except from a staff.

Do not use the flag as a covering for a ceiling.

Do not carry the flag flat or horizontally but always aloft and free.

Do not use the flag as a portion of costume or dress.

Do not put lettering of any kind on the flag.

Do not use the flag in any form of advertising nor fasten any advertising sign to a pole from which the flag is flown.

FALL ACTIVITIES.

PROOF THAT THE FALL season is about here, despite summer temperatures is the fact that the fall term of District Court opens Monday and the fall term of the McKinney Public Schools opens Monday. Court officials are busy getting ready for the opening of court, while hundreds of school children are winding up summer jobs and vacations ready to start another school year.

TAKE YOUR TIME.

TIME WAS WHEN WE could take our time to do our tasks well, says Frank B. Craig. But that time has passed. We must do things as well, but must comply with schedules, it's our time no longer. We are in all-out war.

We are parts of a great machine, and parts must work together so that this machine gives maximum production on time.

Whether we work on the farm or in the shop, in the mines, in the mills, or in transportation of products, all of us are giving our time for victory.

Our time thus become the nation's time.

If You Have House, Apartment Or Rooms For Rent, Fill Out Coupon And Mail To Chamber Commerce

An appeal to the citizenship of McKinney to fill out and mail in the housing coupon, being run each day in these papers, is made by President C. Hansford Ray of the McKinney Senior Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Ray says that many citizens already have complied with their request and that scores of these coupons have been received at the Chamber of Commerce in this city. "But we have just started on this huge project," Mr. Ray said, "and we must have hundreds of other coupons filled out and at the Chamber of Commerce if we are to take care of the officials and workers who will throng to McKinney to erect the 1,500 bed war hospital in this city."

Mr. Ray again stresses the importance of the cooperation of each citizen and says that it is necessary that they have this information before the new citizens begin ariving.

"The hospital has been authorized and it required hard work to get it," Mr. Ray said, "but the work is just beginning and here is where McKinney citizens, who have been asking what they can do to help, can play an important work in the building of this huge hospital in McKinney. McKinney people must realize the tremendous job ahead and if they have a house, apartment, or rooms for rent, please fill out the coupon in these papers and mail to the Chamber of Commerce in McKinney."

How To Get Even With The Rubber Wrecker

When The Tire Torturer Whizzes By You Going At A Terrific Rate Of Speed, Give Him Three Shorts And A Long; He'll "Catch On."

Want to get even with the rubber wrecker?

Want to tame the tire torturer who whizzes by when you're holding 'er down to a patriotic 40, who squeals his tires on corners and specializes in packrabbit starts and bucking bronco stops?

Well, the National Safety Council suggests one way to cool off this haghway hotshot:

Give hi mthree shorts and a long on your horn—the International Morse Code "V" for victory.

The Council believs that if enough of us use this handy means of reminding the reckless drived that he isn't doing his part in the conservation effort, he'll soon catch on and fall into line.

Result: More rubber and fewer crashes!

News From War Front

The Canadian government made known their losses in the Commando raid on Dieppe recently, when 170 Canadians were killed, 2,547 are missing, and 533 were wounded. It will be recalled that the Canadians furnished most of the Allied manpower for the raid.

American bombers Sunday night raided Bengasi and Tobruk in North Africa and did great damage to axis supply bases, dock faciltties, shipping, airdromes and axis installations.

Japanese ships in some manner are running the blockade, getting to Germany with valuable rubber, tin and other supplies and receiving in return needed materials. The Allies suspect that they are using West and North African bases.

● ●

American airmen, who are doing great damage to the Japanese in New Guinea, have adopted a novel means of naming their planes, taken from the 'Lil Abner' comic strip. Their planes are known by such names as Lil Abner, Salomy, and Daisy Mae, while their base is called Dog Patch.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson, appearing before a committee in Washington, reiterated President Roosevelt's demand to halt inflation and said that inflation jeopardizes the progress of the war.

GERMANS MAKE ONLY SLIGHT ADVANCE ON STALINGRAD AS THE SOVIETS REINFORCE LINES

ALLIED AIRMEN MEET WITH ONLY LITTLE RESISTANCE IN BOMBING JAPANESE ON NEW GUINEA.

BULLETINS.

A high ranking naval official says that American naval striking power of the United States Navy has forged ahead of the Japanese in the Pacific and that the Americans have opened a real second front in that area. He admitted we have a problem in getting men and materials to that area, but said that we are accomplishing this purpose satisfactorily.

Russian planes and troops, sent in the battle of Stalingrad, reinforced the defenses of the city and prevented Germans from making substantial gains. A terrific air assault by the Germans was made on the city, as Russia admitted the situation is desperate. Soviet bombs destroyed fifty-seven enemy planes in one day. The Nazis are making advances in the Caucasus.

The RAF hammered again at Wilhelmshaven, shaking the German city with bombs from hundreds of planes. It was the sixty-eighth raid of the war on the city, and fires were left burning. Only two bombers failed to return. It was exactly two years ago that the Germans made their final big air assault on Great Britain, when the nazis lost 185 planes and the British lost twenty-five, in what is believed to have been a turning point of the war.

Allied airmen are meeting with little resistance in their raids on the Japanese in New Guinea and have stalled the enemy in their advance on Port Moresby. General MacArthur believes that the Allies can stop the Japanese before they reach the city.

The Western Defense Command in San Francisco, California, said that they had discovered evidence of activity by a Japanese seaplane which evidently attempted to set afire forests in Southern Oregon, in the first bombing of the continental United States in history. A small Seaplane was observed near Brookings, Oregon, Wednesday of last week and a submarine was sighted about thirty miles off the same shore by an army patrol plane. Later a forest fire was observed near Mount Emily, and fragments of what appeared to be Japanese incendiary bomb was discovered. Forest patrols quickly extinguished the blaze.

Statements of government representatives said that the Japanese, if they made the attack, selected one of the most heavily wooded section of the coast, where the threat of fire is always iminent.

British Raid Tobruk.

Great Britain said that a small force of British Imperial troops, in Commando style, raided Tobruk, axis North African base, Sunday night, doing damage despite strong opposition. Tobruk is 320 miles West of the Egyptian battle front. After carrying out their mission, the British forces withdrew successfully, although not without losses. It was said that a light naval force bombarded the El Daba area, thirty miles West of Alamein and returned to its base harbor without casualties.

Allied Bombers Strike Germany.

Germany was hit on two fronts by Allied bombers as the RAF attacked Bremen and the Russians spread ruin over East Prussia, Rumania and Hungary. The Russians were aiming at the Rumanian oil fields; the capital, Bucharest, in Koenigsberg, in East Prussia, although the Germans credit the Soviet with a broader sweep of their planes.

Stalingrad Defenses Hold.

Russia said that their troops had beaten off heavy German tank and infantry attacks on Stalingrad, conceding no enemy gains for the second straight day. Fighting continues West and Southwest of the city with the Germans repulsed by artilery fire and bayonet charges of the defenders of the city.

General MacArthur said that Allied airmen continue to raid Japanese positions in New Guinea and that the general situation is unchanged, as the Japanese advance columns are being held in check in their attempt to reach Port Moresby, Allied air base.

More Than 100 Boys And Girls Have Completed Course Of Training In This City And Have Been Sent To War Plants In The Nation.

J. C. Brooks of Kaufman has arrived in McKinney and assumed charge of the NYA work shop in the McKinney City Coliseum. He succeeds C. H. Moore, who for the past several months has been Superintndent of the local shop. Mr. Moore has been transferred to the residence center of the NYA at Burnett, Texas.

During the time Mr. Moore had charge of the shop over a hundred boys and girls, between the ages of 17 and 20, completed a course of training in sheet metal work, and have been sent to defense plants at various points in the nation. Several of these young people have been assigned duties in shipyards, tank yards and aircraft factories and Monday morning four young women, who have completed training in the local plant, began work in the North American Aircraft plant at Grand Prairie.

Mr. Brooks, who comes from the Kaufman shop, states that this training is of much benefit to the boy and girl of the above mentioned ages. The average period of training is only about for or five weeks, in most cases, after which the student is ready to go into a defense plant at an unusually good wage. e visioned it a week in which sters would speak of the Con- tion on Sunday, teachers would stress it in the schools and civic organizations review its blessings.

Mr. Saner was appointed chairman of a citizenship committee which included noted lawyers, Elihu Root of New York, Walter G. Smith of Pennsylvania, Cordenio A. Severance of Minnesota and F. Dumont Smith, of Kansas, and the American Bar Association adopted the report of that committee that it should sponsor Constitution Week to abolish ignorance about that instrument.

Since then the American Bar Association and bar associations over the nation have fostered observance of the week by churches, schools and various other bodies.

One result was a series of annual national oratorical contests for high school students on the Constitution, finalists meeting in the national capital on Constitution Day.

Farmers Of Collin County Asked To Cooperate With Each Other In Exchanging Of Needed Farm Work

RAYFORD SIKES, MANAGER OF THE LOCAL UNITED STATES EMPLOYMENT SERVICE OFFICE IN M'KINNEY ASKS FARMERS TO UTILIZE ALL AVAILADLE SOURCE OF FARM LABOR IN GETTING THIS YEAR'S COTTON CROP HARVESTED.

"The farmers of Collin County can do their bit toward helping win the war by cooperating with each other in the exchange of farm work and by utilizing all available sources of farm labor in getting this year's cotton crop harvested, Rayford Sikes, Manager of the local United States employment Service office, said today.

"The United States Department of Agriculture War Board and the United States Employment Service have laid careful plans to aid in the assurance that sufficient labor is available to harvest the crops in this area; but these plans are necessarily laid around cooperation with and between the farmers of the County," continued Mr. Sikes.

"Especially do we urge that farmers cooperate with each other and with the County War Board and the Employment Service by exchanging farm work and farm workers. Much time valuable to the war effort can be lost by both farmers and farm workers if the workers are unable to proceed directly from one farm job to another," he said.

Farmers and operators that have workers that will be available for use by other farmers in the community should either make plans with neighboring farmers for an exchange of labor or should contact Mr. Sikes, and the Employment Service will see that they are relocated to the best advantage.

Mr. Sikes emphasized the fact that Texas' shortage is one of experienced farm workers, and that the farmers of Collin County may find it necessary to utilize sources of labor never before used in order to secure farm workers. Many workers who have never been considered a part of the local farm labor supply, including women, elder children, and townspeople, may be needed in order to get wartime crops harvested, and any person available and willing to do farm work is urged to ge in touch with the local Employment Service office immediately.

All Collin County farmers are invited to bring their labor problems to Mr. Sikes at the United States Employment Service office at 209 North Kentucky, McKinney, Texas, where these problems will be discussed and the facilities of the Employment Service made available in planning a solution.

McKINNEY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1942.

With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right.—Abraham Lincoln.

The law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.—John 1-17.

Children under 15 can not work for wages in Texas after Sept. 15, except by permission of the county judge, reminds Labor Commissioner John D. Reed. Mr. Reed said that large numbers of under-15 youths have worked this summer in drug and grocery stores, filling stations, and as messengers this summer. Texas law forbids employment of children under 15 from Sept. 15 to June 1, covering the school year. Those over 12 years of age may get special permission to work if the county judge is convinced the child's help is needed to support him or his family. The state law does not apply to children working at farming, ranching or other agricultural pursuits.

AXIS PLANES HUNT AIR PHANTOMS IN YUGOSLAVIA.

London reports that the axis planes are continually flying over Bosnia and Serbia, parts of Yugoslavia, to find the base of the phantom "White Eagle" squadron of guerrilla planes which are boldly becoming a real nuisance to the occupation forces. They have inflicted many casualties on the axis garrison at Banja Luka, 160 miles Wes tof Gelgrade. The "White Eagles" usually go in pairs, but often travel alone, striking an axis target at dusk and disappearing behind the high mountains.

General Mihailovitch has captured some German planes which are now used against the enemy. But the most astonishing fact is that he has instituted a barter system, trading captured Italian officers to their countrymen for so many gallons of gasoline to solve his difficult problem of getting fuel for his planes.

U. S. TO CONTROL TRUCKS, BUSSES AND TAXIS.

The office of Defense Transportation has announced it will assume sweeping control over millions of the nation's commercial vehicles Nov. 15, including rationing of gasoline, tires, tubes and accessories to such vehicles.

Described by ODT as "a drastic move to obtain further conservation of such equipment for war purposes," the order will supplement conservation regulations already in effect.

Approximately 5,000,000 trucks 150,000 buses, upwards of 50,000 taxicabs and similar vehicles will be required to carry a certificate of war necessity in order to obtain fuel, tires, tubes and accessories.

The certificate will govern the maximum mileage that may be operated or the minimum loads that may be carried or both.

The order applies to all types of trucks and all other vehicles built primarily for the purpose of transporting property, except motorcycles, and all vehicles used in the transportation of passengers or which are available for public rental, including ambulances and hearses, but not including private passenger cars.

PRECIOUS METALS.

Americans are so accustomed to demanding and getting the newest and the best that they characteristically discount anything without these qualities, says the Dallas News. Possibly, it is this idea lurking in the American psychology that makes us a little slow to grasp the significance of the current campaign for scrap materials. Possibly, we could get up more enthusiasm of the American sort if we could be made to see the real value of these junk materials.

The scrap metals of America constitute one of the world's richest and most diversified mines. The vein of this mine is a little thin and scattered but to offset this disadvantage it is of vast extent and it is on the surface of the earth where mining costs are nil. The great motor vehicle, farm implement and other metal industries of our nation have been comparable to a vast geologic movement, in that they have drawn metals from all parts of the world and redeposited them on the surface of America. This great deposit is not only of iron from our own Mesabi range, but also of tin from Malaya, tungsten from South America, manganese from Mexico and South Africa and India, molybdenum from Canada and Australia, nickel from Canada and chromium from Rhodesia and the East Indies. Throughout America are found these and other essential minerals from the far corners of the earth, including such corners as Norway, Sweden, Germany, Poland, France, Malaya and the Dutch East Indies, now closed to us by axis aggression.

When you go out to do your part in the scrap metal collection, think of yourself as working in one of the world's richest and most diversified (and most easily worked) mines. Look upon the piece of scrap metal in the corner of your garage not as a rusty piece of junk but as a possible nugget containing precious alloy metals that are more urgently needed and basically more valuable than gold or silver or precious stones.

But, above all, go out and mine your part of the vein to the utmost. The accomplishments of Denton, Wichita Falls, Sweetwater and some of the other smaller and middle-sized cities of Texas are a direct and pressing challenge to the larger cities like Dallas. The manner in which we respond to the nation's call for reclamation of this vast deposit of mineral wealth may mean the difference between victory and defeat in our struggle with the enemy.

BACK TO GOD AND HIS WORD.

By J. L. SUMMILL

Friends: This old war torn world is in a cha-ot-ic condition today, all because God has been left out of the program. David said, except Jehovah build the house, they labor in vain that build it.

Our own country as we all know has been drawn into the conflict. Our loved ones are being taken from us, maybe never to return, gladly making the sacrifice that we may enjoy the freedom that this great nation has enjoyed so long. Many of these fine young men loved to attend the worship on the Lord's day, where they could sing and pray in the worship to God. That privilege has been taken away from them.

What are we that are left behind going to do about it? Are we going to forget God? Or will we be found on our knees in prayer to our heavenly Father, asking him through his divine providence to over rule that peace may be restored. The church should be full at each service with earnest worshippers, but instead we find a great number who have forgotten God. Men and women who never take time to pray, never take time to attend the worship.

Let's all get back to God and his word before it is too late.

In the words of the poet, let us take time to be holy. Speak oft with the Lord, Abide in Him always, and feed on his word; make friends of God's children, help those that are weak forgetting in nothing his blessings to seek.

McKinney Lions Hear Story Of The Lexington Sinking

One of the most interesting meetings of the McKinney Lions Club has held Wednesday of this week when the members were privileged to hear first hand, the story of the sinking of the U. S. Aircraft Carrier "The Lexington." James Welch, a McKinney boy who was on the ship at the time and escaped with three thousand of his shipmates, was the speaker for the day and brought a most interesting account of the Coral Sea battle.

The meeting was held in the First Christian Church with the ladies serving the delightful chicken dinner Lions W. G. Proctor presided over the meeting and Lions Paul Keaton and M. C. Johnson were the program committee for the day, the latter presiding and presenting the speaker.

Young Mr. Welch has been in the Navy a year during which time he has had many thrilling experiences. He is home on a fifteen day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Welch, Sr.

He told how the Lexington was built as a Cruiser in 1917, and in 1927 was rebuilt into an airplane carrier. The Lexington has won probably so much notoriety during World War II as any other American vessel. The ship was with the Pacific Fleet, at Midway Island when Pearl Harbor was attacked December 7, and since that time has participated in five major battles causing the destruction of seventeen ships, sixty-seven planes, including 900 officers and 8,000 men. In the Corral Sea battle the Lexington was sunk by her own men after she had been attacked and struck by eight torpedoes. Before the men were ordered overboard Rear Admiral Sherman made a farewell address to the officers and men as follows:

"In giving up my command of the LEXINGTON, I wish to express my appreciation for the fine loyal service you have all given to me. Many things have happened to us since I took over command two years ago today. We have been through a great deal together, especially since the 7th of December. In all that time, your conduct has been of the highest order, and an inspiration to me.

I can say today, as I did a year ago, that in my opinion, the officers and crew of the LEXINGTON, including the Air Group, are the finest body of fighting men in the world today.

"This is an air war, as you all very well know. In manning the world's finest carrier, you have been in the fore front of the fighting in the Pacific since the seventh o December.

You have received the highest commendation it is possible for any group of men to receive. I will not repeat them here. I have recommended that a new carrier be named the LEXINGTON, and that as many as possible of you men be kept together to man that new carrier and to carry on the traditions and spirit spirit of the old LEXINGTON. How many of you will be so assigned, I do not know. But I do know, wherever you may go, you will carry with you the spirit that inspired us on the LEXINGTON. We have made a grand start at defeating the enemy but there is much left to do. I do not need to tell you what we are fighting for—you know. Our way of life, our freedom from slavery ,the sanctity of our homes, are all involved. We are showing our enemies what kind of people we American are.

Since the beginning of the war, the LEXINGTON engaged in three battles; all of them great victories for our forces. The LEXINGTON alone has sunk or damaged 17 enemy ships, has shot down 67 enemy planes, and has killed or drowned an estimated 900 Japanese officers, and 8,000 Japanese men. In doing this, she steamed a total of 43,311 miles. This is a record of which you can all be proud.

I have loved the LEXINGTON during my period in command, and it is with the deepest regret that I say, "farewell." To each and every one of you, I say, "Good luck, and may we meet again."

New Rationing Rules Of OPA About Typewriters

Elton Riggs, chairman of the Collin County War Price and Rationing Board, called attention today to a new OPA rationing regulation which requires that all persons who have rented typewriters manufactured since Jan 1. 1935, must return these machines back to the dealers by Sepember 15.

"This applies to new typewriters and used non-portable machines," he said.

"If the machines are not returned, then dealers are required to notify the state OPA office, specifying the name and address of the borower who rented the typewriter, the date of the original delivery and the model, make and serial number of the machine."

Persons eligible to purchase typewriters under existing regulations are not affected by this order, and no dealer may advertise typewriters for sale or delivery except to such authorized persons.

"The recent drive by the War Production Board for 500,000 machines for the Army and Navy has not turned up a sufficient number," Mr. Riggs explained. "The need is critical. Both the Army and Navy have cooperated in seducing the number of machines required for each of their units and Federal agencies have agreed to reduce their requests wherever possible. Even with these steps, there just aren't enough typewriters to go around."

The new order places a three-month maximum rental limit on standard typewriters manufactured prior to Jan. 1, 1935 and on all used portables. Dealers are required to refund a proportionate amount on the unexpired rental term to persons who turn machines in by Sept. 15.

Nothing in the new amendment prevents a dealer from renting typewriters manufactured prior to 1935, but rental charges are under price ceiling regulations.

Buggy Washed At Downtown Garage In City

McKinney citizens knew it was certain to happen some time. And it did!

Attendants of a local downtown garage washed a buggy Thursday of this week and otherwise made it look spic and span.

The buggy was the property of Dr. J. Knight, well known McKinney citizen and osteopath.

The cleaning up job was performed at the Conoco Service Station across the street from this office, of which Homer W. Wilson has charge. Strangely enough the garage, several decades ago, was the site of a livery stable, where some of McKinney's finest animals were housed.

The washing of the buggy this week was the first time that act had occurred in the garage location in approximately thirty years.

McKinney citizens, when they learned what was taking place, hurried to the garage to see the unusual spectacle of a horse and buggy being attended to in a downtown garage.

It's just one of the evidences that are being seen as a result of the war. The horse is coming into its own, there's no denying the fact, what with tire and car rationing already here, and gasoline rationing evidently just around the corner, and one can almost see a triumphant look in Old Dobbin's eye as he looks disdainfully on the motor cars running about the city.

Dallas Lawyer Is Slain Sunday Night By Neighbor

(Dallas News).

An altercation between Emanuel M. Reichman, 36, attorney of 4142 Emerson, and a neighbor over the noise allegedly being made while he entertained friends ended in Reichman's death Sunday night at the result of four bullet wounds inflicted as they squabbled on the lawn in front of their homes.

O. H. Marwill, 4144 Emerson, earlier in the evening had filed a disturbance complaint against Reichman at the University Park police station, Capt. C. R. Warnack said, and the shooting occurred soon afterward.

Reichman, a bachelor, had been living on Emerson for several months, and was understood to be preparing to enter the Army.

Marwill refused to discuss the shooting with officers, Captain Warnack said, and the only account of the slaying that they had obtained later Sunday night was the version given by Albert A. Siebler, Ervington Hotel, a guest of Reichman's who said the shooting occurred after the two men had been arguing several minutes.

Reichman was taken to St. Paul's Hospital in a McCommas Funeral Home ambulance, but died as he entered the hospital. He was shot through the chest and left arm. All four shots from the automatic pistol struck him, funeral home attendants said.

Captain Warnack said that Marwill would be held for further investigation pending the filing of charges.

Funeral services for Mr. Reichman were held Tuesday. He had no immediate relatives in Dallas.

Your Health

Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, Appeals To Texans To Cut Down The Total Days Lost In The State.

With the nation facing a loss of more than 6 million man days per month in defense industries alone from accidents and illnesses, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, is intensifying the Texas State Health Department's effort to cut down the total days lost in this State.

"The number of man days lost from accidents alone each month reaches an alarming total. But we consider that there are 9 times more absentees from communicable and other diseases it becomes apparent," Dr. Cox asserted, "why it is necessary to urge that each individual protect his own health to the best of his ability."

Communicable disease and even mild epidemics can seriously handicap the nation's war effort by slowing down the production of the necessary ships, planes, guns, and tanks. Careful attention to personal cleanliness, proper nutrition, sufficient rest, fresh air and sunshine is the personal responsibility of every individual at this time.

"It is our job," Dr. Cox said, "to fight sickness and accidents. Production can be boosted and lives can be saved by strict adherence to community and industrial hygiene standards and full cooperation in such community projects as mosquito control and rat extermination for preventing the spread of malaria, dengue, and typhus fever. Loss of time renders aid to the enemy ind this country must be able to depend on peak production from all its industrial army."

Dr. Cox pointed out that the armed forces have called a great per cent of our doctors and nurses into active service and the war has made unattainable many of the drugs and chemicals which have heretofore been used as ordinary household remedies. This shortage of doctors and nurses, together with our inability to obtain many needed drugs, makes the conservation of good health a definite war project and the patriotic duty of every man, woman, and child.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McLaughlin of Fort Worth continue at patients in the McKinney City Hospital where they are slowly recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident several days ago.

Life In Submarine Is Hazardous

The following information regarding the submarine, its method of operation and the dangers under which it operates, comes from Admiral Wm. V. Pratt, U. S. N., retired:

The recent activities of our submarines in the Aleutians and in the Far East are one episode in the pattern of this sea war, which is broad terms is a continuation of the phase ended in 1918. And while from time to time we hear of spectacular sea engagements, such as the sinking of the Bismark and Hood and the Battle of Midway, yet the only naval craft continuously on the attack has been the submarine.

In this repsect it resembles the ever-active plane. But there is one great difference between the submarine and all other instruments of war: The submarine can operate in two elements, on the surface of the sea and under it. This makes it, within the limitation of its fighting and range capacities, a very formidable and elusive customer. It has great destructive potentiality, but, on the other hand, no naval craft operates under greater hazards.

And the hazards are many. The sea itself, though it gives cover, has its reefs and ledges ,and any puncture o ftne iner hull jeopardizes the safety of the ship and crew, if it does not spell their annihilation. What would be small damage to a surface ship may be deadly for the submarine. The hull of the ship must be carefully constructed and very tough to withstand the great pressure when it dives to any depth. All the automatic devices for closing watertight doors and ducts must be checked and rechecked and a duplicate system provided.

Special lifesaving devices, such as the Momsen lung and the Davis escape gear, must be provided for the personnel, yet even these cannot overcome the effects of the bends, the malady to which all deep-sea divers are subject and which can be cured only if proper appliances are provided. These are not available to a submarine on war duty.

No personnel, on land, air, or sea, requires such intensive training and efficient operation as do submarine crews, for failure of any one man to do his part may mean the loss of the ship and al lits crew.

When in the selected operating area, the submarine is everyone's target for attack, friend and foe alike, since the undersea boat is too dangerous a foe for anyone to take chances. For example, in Atlantic waters our submarines have to operate very carefully to avoid being bombed by our own forces. Knowing this, the sumbarine commander must be a man with a cool head and good judgment, with determination enough to drive a torpedo into the selected tarket, in spite of depth charges and bombs exploding around him. And the crew must be equally cool and imperturable.

Submarine-detection devices increase the hazards and one of the greatest dangers is the submerged mine, which goves no warning. More submarines are reported missing from this cause than from any other.

Yet in spite of all these hazards navies continue to build undersea craft in increasing numbers and operate them continuously in their chosen attack areas.

Campaign Brings New Recruits To Perrin Field

The current campaign to enlist men as ground crew mechanics and radio technicians in the Army Air Forces has brought large numbers of eager recruits to Perrin Field, it was disclosed at Perrin Field.

During the past week, a recruiting caravan has visited eleven towns in Oklahoma and Texas, concluding the program with concerts in Hugo, Oklahoma, and Bonham, Texas. The Perrin Field military band acompanied the caravan and provided the concert at teach town. McKinney was included in the tour of the Perrin Field then.

Not even a rainstorm which met the group in Hugo Monday night could dampen the spirits of the band entourage. Originally scheduled to be played on the courthouse lawn, the concert location was moved to the protection of a downtown awning, and the program went ahead before a small rain-defying crowd. Previously Monday night the band played for an estimated 1,500 persons at Bonham.

Captain W. C. McDanel, technician procurement officer, opened the concert programs in the several towns on this week's schedule. Captain William McCraw, former attorney general for the state of Texas, was the principal speaker. He explained opportunities open to men who enlist directly into the Army Air Forces. Civilian mechanics and radio men may enlist and be assigned to ground crew mechanics and duties and radio maintenance work and become more experienced in their professions and trades, he said. Such training in airplane mechanics prepares the men to accept responsible positions in the rapidly expanding aviation industry after the war.

Scores of men have answered the call to enlist and have appeared at Perrin Field to inquire of Captain McDanel as to how they should join the Air Forces and assume their share of this war. Telephone calls have come into the field from towns many miles distant, and letters were received from as far away as California.

Although the caravan has completed its tour, enlistments of mechanics and radio maintenance men will continue to be accepted at Perrin Field, Capt McDanel announced, to take their places in the important ground crews.

The recruiting caravan has appeared at the following Texas and Oklahoma towns; Ada, Antlers, Ardmore, Atoka, Colgate, Hugo and Sulphur in Oklahoma, and Bonham, Denton, Gainesville and McKinney in Texas. Enthusiastic citizens greeted the caravan of officers and the military band when they made their appearance in the towns.

McKinney High and Fort Worth Tech Play Tie Game

The 1942 football season was opened in McKinney Friday night when Coach Henderson Malone's McKinney High Lions and Coach W. Lucas, Fort Worth Tech Bulldogs played a scoreless tie before a crowd of several hundred fans at Newsome Field.

McKinney threatened in the first quarter, when they carried to the Tech six yard line, but penalties set the Lions back and the ball went over on downs.

Tech never seriously threatened ,although Duffy in the last quarter brought the crowd to its feet with his 49 yard run, carrying to the Lion 37.

Statistics of the game reveal the fact that the teams were evenly matched. The Lions gained yards from scrimmage to 90 for Tech and the Lions ran up twelve first downs to six for the Bulldogs. Each team showed good passing form at times, McKinney completing seven of twenty-one passes for 58 yards and Fort Worth Tech completing four of ten passes for 27 yards.

Outstanding for the Bulldogs were Rainey, quarter; McAlister half, and Duffy, full. Shilling at end played a good game. McKinney's starting backfield, McQueary, Carter, Stewart and Woods, played a good game, as did Bradshaw and Fraze at ends; Scalf and Holcomb, at tackles; Perkins and Haney at guards and Hamilton, center. Substitutes likewise played well.

The half ended with Tech in possession of the ball on the McKinney 34 yard line. Both teams fumbled at times, due to the early game, showing the fact that the teams need more seasoning.

In the first quarter, Woods was good for 14 yards to the Tech 44 yard line. Stewart carried for 14 yards to the Tech 30. Carter made no gain. Woods lost two, and passes, McQueary to Fraze, were incomplete. Woods made 11 yards and first down on the Tech 19. Carter made 12 to the Tech six, but penalties set the Lions back and McKinney's scoring threat did not materialize.

Drivers License Chief J. B. Draper says that automatic renewals are granted holders of original licenses when they are made with the time specified for certain serial numbers. Persons driving without valid licenses are liable to arrest and fine.
